Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Reflections for this week's readings

First Reading:	Zephaniah 2:3, 3:12-13
Responsorial Psalm:	Psalm 145:7-10
Second Reading:	1 Corinthians 1:26-31
Gospel:	Matthew 5:1-12

A mother with two children or more, whether working full or part-time, keeping a house and racing between school, childcare, doctors, etc, occasionally may tend to panic and declare that she hates modern living. "Time is so short", she says, "and everything around me is turned upside down! Things were so different when I was a child." And who blames her!

That is what Paul wrote to the Corinthians over two thousand years ago: "The time is short ...the world as we see is passing away." We cannot ignore the environment completely, but we can and must work out where we fit in it so we can hang on to what we really need and forget the rest of what we want.

Today's Gospel according to Mathew reminds me of every time I started a new job, and I was given a list of duties to perform. If I did well, I was praised and promoted, if not I risked being sacked! Isn't this what Jesus is challenging us with by this list of Beatitudes? It is His will presented to all Christians and people of good will.

So, at the beginning of this new year, it will be greatly to our benefit if we try to keep measuring our efforts against Jesus' guidelines – not only written in His Gospel but also deeply entrenched in our heart and conscience. What comes easy in achieving this is the fact that we don't have to seek these opportunities with much effort, for they present themselves to us every day, even without expectation.

Therefore let us keep the Beatitudes constantly in our mind, so we shall be ready when we see our neighbour in need of any spiritual or material assistance, when we notice anyone isolated and seems in need of a word of comfort, when we are tempted to close our eyes to the injustice done to marginalised sectors of the community - we remember! Yes, we remember what Jesus expects from us, and that His asking is no greater than what He Himself endured for us in setting so many clear and living examples to sustain every one of the nine Beatitudes he bequeathed to us to keep us all united as one with Himself.

Year A? I thought it was 2026

We recently began the season of Ordinary Time, listening to the accounts of Jesus' public ministry for a new year from the Gospel of Matthew. Sometimes we might hear people refer to the "Year of Matthew" or "Year A", which began in Advent last November. What, though, is the meaning behind these titles?

One concern of the bishops at the Second Vatican Council in the 1960s was that more of the Bible was opened up to all of us, starting with our liturgical celebrations. Rather than continuing to listen to the same Scripture texts year on year, the Lectionary (book of readings) for Mass was completely revised. For Sundays, this means we listen to a three-year cycle of readings, with a two-year cycle of readings for weekdays.

These three years in the Sunday Lectionary cycle are referred to as Years A, B and C, with the Gospels of Matthew, Mark and Luke being central to the Scripture proclamations across each year respectively. The Sundays in Ordinary Time in particular invite us to walk with Jesus as he lives out his mission, from his baptism to his final journey towards Jerusalem and his passion, death and resurrection.

Donation Envelopes:

How do I use them?

This Lent, like we did in 2025, there is a single Project Compassion donation envelope – rather than the six weekly envelopes used in previous years. This change was made to reduce waste and support our shared commitment to caring for our common home.

You can still give weekly by taking several envelopes at once or simply make your offering when you're ready. Thank you for Uniting Against Poverty with us this Lent.
